INDEX TO VOLUME 47*

Adler, Bela, Anthropometric measurements of the newborn, sex differences, and correlations between measurements 523-30

Admixture, Caucasian, in Ojibwa Indians 362-5

Adolescent weight, height and mandibular length in females 309-19

Age changes in: fetal brain weight 511-22; histological composition of rectus abdominis muscle (2) 231-49; skinfold thickness in children of different ethnic groups in Guatemala (2) 251-62

Alkaline phosphatase genotypes not related to growth (2) 219-30

Anderson, Donald L., Weight, height, and mandibular length in adolescent females 309-19

Ann, Tan Boon, Seasonality of births in Chinese and Malays of West Malaysia 295-307

de Araújo, Aldo M., Parental characteristics and birthweight in a Brazilian population 37-43

Bailey, Donald A., Physical performance in boys from 10 through 16 years (3) 263-81

Baker, P. T., ABO and Rh blood groups, PTC tasting ability, and lingual rotation among Southern Peruvian Quechua Indians (3) 193-9

Berkson, David M., Reproducibility of blood pressure 483-92

Binford, Robert T., Jr., Cold injury and the evolution of "white" skin 65-80

Birkbeck, J. A., Early fetal brain growth 511-22

Birth weight and: smoking of mothers 451-72; other measurements 523-30

Births, seasonality of, in Chinese and Malays of West Malaysia 295-307

Blood groups of American Indians: ABO and Rh in Peru (3) 193-9; Ojibwa 351-68

Blood pressure reproducibility 483-92

Blumberg, B. S., Hepatitis B surface antigen (Australia antigen) in parents and sex ratio of offspring in a Greek population 415-25

Body composition, comparison of methods for determining 321-36

Body segment volumes (2) 203-18

Boileau, Richard A., Comparison of densitometric, potassium-40 and skinfold estimates of body composition in prepubescent boys 321-36; prediction of lean body mass in young boys from skinfold thickness and body weight (3) 245-62

Bone: growth, cortical, in malnourished children 337-50; mineral content in Canadian Eskimos 45-63

* The typesetter duplicated the page numbers of some pages (169, 170 and 193-292) by error. In this index, to distinguish where necessary, we have inserted the issue number in parenthesis. Volume 47 actually constituted 657 printed pages.
